

ref the finger printing of drivers as part of the background checks.could the government consider the option of using prints already on file with them in cases where they are available. i was fingerprinted upon entering the armed forces. are these not available ? I fully support the changes that are being made to our industry but with the cost of operating these days,it would certainly be a great help for the government to use what they have and spare me and i'm sure alot of other people this expense. thanks for your time. larry.
